

The Chris Abell Postdoc Business Plan Competition Handbook

April 2022

Welcome to the 8th edition of The Chris Abell Postdoc Business Plan Competition, organised by the Entrepreneurial Postdocs of Cambridge (EPOC) and Cambridge Enterprise (CE), and kindly supported by Cambridge Enterprise Seed Funds, Cambridge Innovation Capital, Oxbridge Angels, Start Codon, ideaSpace and Taylor Vinters.

This competition honours Prof Chris Abell (1957-2020), a founding director of Cambridge Enterprise and a member of its investment committee. Chris had a passion and great enthusiasm for the pursuit of knowledge and entrepreneurship. He co-founded Astex Pharmaceuticals in 1999 (acquired by Otsuka Pharmaceuticals for $886 million in 2013), Sphere Fluidics in 2010, and Aqdot in 2013. He was also a champion for others at The University of Cambridge and passed his legacy in a number of ways, including by his service as the University's first Director of Postdoctoral Affairs and by taking to the stage at Peterhouse College Theatre to present the awards for our first Postdoc Business Plan Competition in 2015.

This handbook is intended to define the terms of the competition and answer general questions you may have. If you have any further queries, please email competition@enterprise.cam.ac.uk

1. Competition Aims

Cambridge Enterprise was set up by the University to help students and staff commercialise their ideas and to aid the transfer of knowledge into the wider community. University members use Cambridge Enterprise to seek protection for their inventions and ideas, to license their technologies and to identify funding for their start-ups, spin-outs and social enterprises. Cambridge Enterprise offers support to all academic partners, from the fields of science, technology, engineering, maths, and medicine, to the arts, humanities and social sciences.

The aim of this competition is to encourage postdoc entrepreneurship and raise awareness of Cambridge Enterprise Seed Funds and EPOC in accelerating business ideas within the postdoc community.

2. Eligibility

- 2.1. The project presented must be led by a current postdoc of the University of Cambridge, or the majority of team members are currently postdocs employed by the University of Cambridge. A postdoc is considered 'current' if:
  - ✓ They become a postdoc before the First Round application deadline (see table of dates in Section 3.1.).
  - OR
  - ✓ They are a postdoc at the time the Competition call is launched (see table of dates in Section 3.1.). They will still be considered 'current' for the purposes of the competition if they leave their postdoc position before the end of the competition.
- 2.2. Postdocs can make submissions that relate to the work of their group leader but must have the project leader's support and clearance to develop the commercial proposition. The competition organisers reserve the right to disqualify entries that have not got this permission in cases when they should have.

- 2.3. Postdocs can also make submissions that are separate from their line of research or that of their group leader that have been developed in their own time without involvement of resources assigned to their employment such as but not limited to consumables, grant funding and lab space. For the avoidance of doubt, such submissions must have clear delineation between the areas of postdoc research and proposed commercialisation. The competition organisers reserve the right to request further information should the area of commercialisation be closely linked to the area of postdoc's contractual research.
- 2.4. Participants of the competition from previous years can re-enter the competition, but previous prize winners may not apply with the same project. Previous prize winners can only re-enter the competition if they have a completely different proposition from the one that was previously awarded a prize.
- 2.5. The project being entered must not have already received investment or prize money totalling more than £50,000 at the time of the First Round application deadline. This is because the competition is aimed to attract entrants where the projects are at the beginning of their commercialisation journey, not established enterprises. Academic grant funding does not count towards this. If you are unsure as to whether this might apply to you, please contact the competition organisers for clarification.
